

Lone Rock Beach Campsite

Location: Near Wahweap Marina

Campground Type: Primitive Beach Camping

Lone Rock Beach Campsite is a very large primitive campsite located on the shores of Wahweap Bay and adjacent to Lone Rock, a large island like redrock formation. It is accessible to vehicles—you can drive right onto the sand and set up camp on the beach or sand dunes. It is "Primitive", meaning no designated camping spots, but you'll find toilets, outhouses, RV dump, cold showers, potable water in the camp area. Jet Ski's, boats and personal watercraft can be operated and/or anchored conveniently at the beach. The beach is about an 8 mile drive from either marina, but about half the distance by water. Many people use this location on holidays / weekends, so plan accordingly (no reservations). Remember to bring a porta-potty if you're camping more than 200 yards from the outhouses—the park service regularly patrols this site and you'll face fines if you don't obey this rule. We also recommend avoiding soft-sandy areas, it's easy to get stuck.

Directions:

Lone Rock Beach Campground is located on Utah Highway 89, 2 miles south of Big Water, UT and 12 miles north of Page, AZ. If you're coming from UT: a few short miles passed Big Water look for signs to Lone Rock Beach—the turn off is on the left. If you're coming from Page: Drive through Page and pass the Glen Canyon Dam. In approximately 12 miles look for signs to Lone Rock Beach. The turn off is on your right. You'll be required to enter through the park gate and pay Glen Canyon entrance / usage fees. Once through the toll booth, drive until you see a small parking lot next to the restrooms / information pavilion. You can choose from among several dirt roads to the beach area. Be sure to stay on improved dirt/sand roads and away from soft sand, as vehicles can get stuck easily.
